

NEW HOSPITAL CARE PLAN ILLINOIS PRIMARY IS BACK-SET FOR BORAH

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—The president's Baltimore address was delivered with habitual mastery of histrionics. All the vocal modulations that his radio audience has learned to expect were included, with a few new ones for good measure when he interpolated the words "Captains of Industry."
That allusion to his favorite "whipping boys" for the tils the New Deal has failed to remedy came out with a crescendo of meaningful inflection.
Practically the only definite thing in the speech was the threat or promise, depending upon how you feel about it, that NRA will be revised if Mr. Roosevelt gets in again.
The only novelty was the suggestion to "limit the active working age at both ends," which opens the vista of an "old age" labor amendment to supplement the proposed Child Labor Amendment.
One of the great difficulties facing the administration is how to raise the money for the things the president is advocating. Everything he hints at entails the continued expenditure of vast sums. How to get them without further endangering our economic equilibrium is left to the imagination.

PA NEW OBSERVES

PA News notes that many improvements are being made on homes in the city, new porches being built, and various repairs being made prior to painting. There is quite a lot of painting work going on also.

The promise of a nice Spring day filled the air early this morning, but it was short lived as the sky clouded up a little later. PA News is hopeful that the weather will not be the same as it was a year ago today, when we had snow flurries. Snow fell on both the 15th and 16th of April last year. It began warming up a few days later, however, after which it remained nice.

Lawrence County trout fishermen who were out along the streams for the first day of the season, had good weather for fishing. It was not raining, and the weather was not cold. Water in some of the streams was reported as a little high.

How would you like to walk into your home or store and be surrounded by 15 cats? This is exactly what happened to a South Side merchant early this morning. Entering his business place, the man was greeted by 15 felines. Getting the cats out of the store was quite a problem. The merchant was at a loss in trying to figure out how they entered the store.

While a suit was undergoing preliminary treatment before being dry cleaned, an employee of the Fish Dry Cleaning company discovered two twenty dollar bills in one of the pockets of the garment. The employee immediately got in touch with Manager Jack Conn, who traced the owner of the suit, a North Jefferson street resident, and returned the money.

Knox Winner Over Borah In Illinois Vote

Presidential Aspirations Of Senator Borah Receive Severe Set-Back

DEMOCRATS POLL HUGE PRIMARY VOTE

Gov. Henry Horner Is Victor In Party Battle—Roosevelt Was Unopposed

By GEORGE C. GALLATI
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, April 15.—The hectic Illinois primary, which brought Gov. Henry Horner victory over his Democratic rival in a significant, record-breaking Democratic vote, today rudely jolted the presidential aspirations of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.
Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, defeated the veteran senator from Idaho for the Illinois presidential preference endorsement by a majority which is expected to reach 100,000. The Knox victory was viewed as a severe if not final blow to Senator Borah's candidacy, particularly in view of the growing strength shown by Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

New York Police Hopeful Cord May Be Clue In Writer's Death

FINGER-PRINT IS ALSO DEVELOPED

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 15.—Hopeful that at last they are off on a track which might bring results, police today are concentrating their efforts to solve the bath-tub murder of pretty Nancy Evans Titterton on a 12-inch length of cord found in the writer's apartment in exclusive Beekman Place.
In spite of the utmost secrecy with which detectives have been surrounding their movements in this baffling mystery, it was learned the police had asked the Shluter Cordage Company in Philadelphia to examine the cord. Officials of the company were requested to notify the New York authorities immediately if they had manufactured the cord and to provide the names and addresses of the firm's customers in New York.
The piece of cord is thought to have been used by the slayer to bind the wrists of the hapless victim while he criminally attacked her.
The description of the string, given to the Philadelphia firm, is as follows:
"Size 1-8, five-ply; known to the trade as No. 10 size, of low grade Italian hemp with some little fibre and a small amount of jute. A 12-inch piece of this cord weighs .0031."
Long Process Seen
If it should develop that the Philadelphia firm actually manufactured this cord, there would be a long and tedious process, similar to that conducted by Walter Koehler in tracing the wood in the (Continued On Page Two)

Honor Basketball Team On Thursday

Virtue may be its own reward but there's other emoluments to being a champion basketball team and the members of the New Castle high school basketball team will find it out Thursday night in The Castle-ton hotel.
Fans of the city are presenting the team members with a testimonial dinner and in addition to the dinner the members will be presented with some little tokens that will be useful as well as ornamental.
Plans for the dinner are now complete, General Chairman J. Myron Rice said today. The dinner will start at 6:30 with S. D. Pearson as host and S. D. Pearson as toastmaster. Coaches Phil H. Bridenbaugh, Gig Thomas and Bill Klee, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner and the team and managers will be the guests of honor.
There isn't going to be any plethora of speaking. The principal speaker of the evening will be John Lawther of Westminster college. If there is anyone in the country who knows basketball it is Lawther, and in addition he is a speaker of ability. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will make a few remarks, the team members will be introduced, there will be some music and that's about all the program.
Tickets are still available from members of the committee, and with a crowd anticipated it would be well to get in today and insure a seat.

Drops Bomb In Auto During Ride In Southern California

HAD SUFFERED HEAVY LOSSES

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 15.—From the incoherent stories of two mained persons, a broker and his fiancée, police today reconstructed a weird murder-suicide plot which culminated in a bombing that claimed the life of Dr. William D. Moriarty, economics professor of University of Southern California, and his wife, Eleanor.
The tragedy ended an automobile drive by Harley McCoy, broker and business associate of Dr. Moriarty, Miss Eleanor Thonis, and the doctor, his wife, and his pet dog.
When the car had reached a lonely spot, the wounded persons told police, Dr. Moriarty suddenly stood up and showed them a small black box.
"Now I'm going to kill you all," he exclaimed. He hurled the box onto the floor of the car. The result was a terrific explosion, which demolished the machine and blew the occupants out.
The doctor and his wife and the dog were horribly mangled and killed instantly. Residents of the district rushed McCoy and Miss Thonis to the hospital.
Heavy financial losses were ascribed as the reason for the act. Dr. Moriarty was president of Gold Lode Mines, Inc., in which McCoy also was interested.

Eden Insists On Sanctions

Italy Is Reported In Financial And Military Plight Result Of Campaign

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 15.—Holding that Italy faces financial collapse, while Fascist victories in Ethiopia have been exaggerated, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden went to Geneva today to insist that, at least, present sanctions be maintained.
His departure for the crucial meetings of the League of Nations Committee of 13 and 18 was accompanied by official intimations that Italy, contrary to Roman reports, was in a precarious financial and military position.
Even if Italy were not engaged in a war, it was pointed out in official circles, with a gold reserve amounting to only $250,000,000 she would be considered heading for a financial collapse.
With all Italy's victorious advances, military authorities here said, the troops of Marshal Pietro Badoglio face long months of guerrilla fighting, with the rainy season in the north only two or three weeks off.

Harry Allen Found Late Tuesday Afternoon—Taken To Hospital Here

Harry Allen, 65, P. R. R. section foreman of Moravia, who disappeared Monday afternoon while enroute to his duties, was returned home late yesterday following which a physician ordered him taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital.
Allen suffered a lapse of memory and paralysis of his left leg, from a stroke, according to the attending physician.
Allen had lunch Monday, then started for work. He apparently suffered a stroke and wandered to Rogers, O., where his memory returned. He was sent to New Galilee where relatives met and returned him to his home.
A physician was called and found his condition was evidently due to a stroke. He is undergoing observation at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Archaeologist Dies Of Knife Thrust As He Unsealed Tomb

(International News Service)
CAIRO, Egypt, April 15.—A knife thrust that struck an archaeologist dead just as he unsealed the tomb of a Pharaoh's son who lived more than 5,000 years ago, and a mysterious desert wind that sprang up at the tragedy, stifling other scientists, today halted digging operations around the great Pyramids.
Professor Selim Hassan, famous Egyptologist who opened the tomb of the daughter of the Pharaoh Cephren, builder of the second pyramid, finding her beauty preserved through the centuries by mud from the annual overflow of the river Nile, made his second important discovery of the month when he came upon the sepulchre of her brother.
The prince, whose tomb Prof. Hassan located, was Knum Baef, who ranked also as one of his father's ministers of state.
Scientists scoffed at such legends as "King Tut's curse", for which many superstitious persons have attributed the deaths of several who were present when Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb was opened—but many native workmen still shook their heads today in wonderment at the hot wind blowing over the unopened tomb of Knum Baef.

Young Democrats Have Jefferson Day Dinner

Under the sponsorship of the Young Democratic Club, New Castle Democrats held their annual Jefferson Day dinner Tuesday evening, April 14, in the dining room of the First Christian church. About 175 were in attendance.
Four speakers were heard, one of them Mrs. W. J. Howley, from New Castle and the other three from Harrisburg and Washington. The three were special Assistant Attorney General Edgar T. Fell, of Washington, D. C., Deputy Attorney General Manuel Krauss, of Harrisburg and Joseph A. Sexton, director of research in Harrisburg. All of the addresses eulogized Thomas Jefferson, founder of the Democratic party and compared his life and times to those of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the present time.
Boyd In Charge
The invocation was delivered by Rev. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, followed by the singing of "America" by the audience. Sammy Dennis, a local troubador sang several numbers. President Findley K. Boyd then welcomed the guests and introduced the speakers.
Mrs. William J. Howley, the first speaker of the evening spoke on "Soil Conservation." In her address, Mrs. Howley referred to Thomas (Continued On Page Two)

ROME, April 15.—Jubilant Italian forces, without firing a shot, captured Dessye today and joyously hoisted the Italian tri-color high on Emperor Haile Selassie's vacated palace, where it flew over a city deserted by the tens of thousands of Ethiopian troops who had occupied it only a few days ago.
All Italy thrilled to official announcement of the occupation of Dessye, 300 miles south of the Eritrean border, and only 160 miles northeast of Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital. Dessye long was headquarters for the emperor's northern army.
Capture of Dessye presumably opened the motor road to Addis Ababa for the Italians, and the Italian scouting planes reconnoitering ahead reported the road appeared deserted.
Whereabouts of the emperor himself was unknown to the Italians, and apparently there are no troops left to guard the capital.
The public hailed the taking of Dessye as bringing much nearer the (Continued On Page Seven)

Miss Ruth Brown, Sister Of Mrs. Ethel Shaffer, In New York Hospital With Broken Back

With regret, New Castle friends and relatives, learn that Miss Ruth Brown, who makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Ethel Shaffer, on Neshannock avenue, this city, is a patient in the King County Hospital at New York City, suffering with a broken back, sustained in a fall down the subway steps on Tuesday.
Miss Brown, who has traveled the past seven years as a stewardess on big passenger ships, was waiting for a boat at the time she had the accident, having been in New York only a period of two weeks. She was immediately removed to the hospital where she received treatment. She will be confined there for six months or more, before she can be removed to her home in New Castle, the time depending upon how she responds to treatment.
Miss Brown was aboard the "Fairfax" when it was wrecked outside of Boston Harbor a few years ago, when it struck a gasoline tanker and caught fire, causing a loss of 58 lives. She escaped however, without injury.

Announcement Of New Plan Is Made To Public

Outline Of "Jameson Prepaid Hospital Care" Plan Given By Dr. Bissell

YEARLY PAYMENTS PROVIDE FOR COST

Small Sum Annually Guarantees Hospital Care In Case Of Necessity

Far reaching in its importance to citizens of New Castle and Lawrence County, an announcement of a new plan of hospitalization was made today by Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, medical director of the Jameson Memorial Hospital.
The plan is known as the "Jameson Prepaid Hospital Care" plan, whereby citizens and their families may assure themselves proper care in the Jameson Memorial Hospital for a small yearly sum. The plan goes into effect immediately.

Briefly the plan is this. Through organization of groups in industry, churches, civic organizations as well as individuals, nominal fees are paid by each of the members. At the time of needed hospitalization the person afflicted is guaranteed up to 35 days care in the hospital as needed, without any additional charge.

How It Works
As an example, John Doe is a member of a group that wishes to assure the members proper care at a time of needed hospitalization. The member pays fifty cents per month or $6 per year. When sickness or accident strikes him down he goes to the Jameson Memorial Hospital and is placed in one of the ward beds and given every care the hospital affords, up to thirty five days as needed, without any further charge save for his bill to his physician.
Such services include nursing care, meals, anesthesia, diagnostic treatment, as X-Rays, all necessary medicines, all surgical dressings, everything in fact but the services of his physician and these of course in the hands and at the expense of the patient himself. If the hospital (Continued On Page Two)

Fighting Occurs On Southern Front

Report Fierce Battling Develops On Southern Front In Ethiopia

(International News Service)
DIREDAW, Ethiopia, April 15.—Fierce fighting broke out on the southern Ethiopian front today, Italian and Ethiopian forces clashing along a wide front in Ogaden Province in an engagement apparently among the most bitter of the entire war.
The Ethiopian forces consisted of picked troops under command of General Wehib Pasha, Turkish military leader, and Dedjasmach Nasibu, one of the emperor's right hand men.
The Ethiopians were reported to be standing their ground well, not yielding an inch of territory despite intensive bombing by the Italian Somaliland aerial forces.

My neighbor wears a six-inch smile, his soul is filled with glee and he goes round with springy step and when he speaks to me, there's apparent in his voice a pride that must come out, he went out fishing with the dawn and boy he caught a trout. I must confess it isn't much a tiny little fish, but he opines it is a peach and trout is just his dish. So I must smile along with him, for fishing is his play, and every fellow to his sport, it's sixty-eight today.

NO OPPOSITION TO ROOSEVELT

(International News Service)
LINCOLN, Neb., April 15.—Early returns in the state's primary election today indicated Gov. Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, will poll a strong "write-in" vote in Nebraska's Republican presidential preference balloting. The only presidential preference candidate appearing on the ballot was Senator Wm. E. Borah of Idaho.

Of the four Republican delegates-at-large chosen in yesterday's voting it appeared two would favor Landon, two the Idaho senator. Despite a light vote, a long ballot and many "write-ins" resulted in slow returns.

However, Gov. R. L. Cochran seemed assured of a 2 to 1 majority for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, and apparently will again oppose Dwight Griswold, Gordon newspaper publisher, who on the basis of scattered returns will clinch the Republican gubernatorial nomination for the third consecutive time.

Former Congressman Terry Carpenter of Scotts Bluff, after trailing last night, early today jumped into a 2 to 1 lead over J. C. Quigley of Valentine, for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

President Roosevelt and vice president Garner were unopposed in the Democratic presidential preference poll, and candidates for seats in the Democratic national convention were all administration supporters.

NOTICE! VOTERS!

It is my desire to see each voter but the time is so short that this will be impossible.

Will you not therefore please consider this a personal solicitation for your support and vote?

I would like to be your next Representative in the General Assembly.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS HAVE JEFFERSON DAY DINNER

Jefferson as a great conservationist and then proved her statements. She presented statistics showing the tremendous loss in this nation every year by soil erosion and pleaded for a more intensive program of conservation.

Telegrams from prominent Democrats were read at this time by the chairman, and Democratic candidates for office were introduced.

Deputy Attorney General Manuel Krauss of Harrisburg was the next speaker introduced. His eulogy of Jefferson was well done. He followed this with utterances likening President Roosevelt as a second Jefferson. Mr. Krauss is a speaker of ability.

Edgar T. Fell

He was followed by Special Assistant Attorney General Edgar T. Fell, of Washington, D. C. He also spent some time on the life of Thomas Jefferson but devoted most of his address to the work of President Roosevelt. Devoting some time to the constitution he described it as being "sacred but flexible." Touching upon President Roosevelt's attitude towards the constitution, Fell said, "don't let them tell you that he is trying to violate the constitution, he is merely trying to see how far it can be stretched to accomplish his purpose." Mr. Fell lauded Congressman Charles R. Eckert at the conclusion of his address.

Joseph A. Sexton, director of research for the department of insurance, he denounced those who would balance the budget in the following words: "We have the cry balance the budget; by what means would those who raise the old Tory rallying cry accomplish this? By what means would they meet existing conditions without the New Deal?"

"Would they decree starvation for the millions of unemployed, would they send hundreds of thousands of boys in CCC camps back to street corners or hobnob, would they deny farmers the right to some return from their labor?"

Rev. McVaine delivered the benediction and the program was concluded. Similar dinners were held over the state and nation Tuesday night and the one in New Castle was a part of a national program.

perhaps the bitterest contest in Illinois history, saw Gov. Horner defeat Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for the gubernatorial nomination by a majority that may exceed 170,000 votes. It was the culmination of an explosive factional fight in which Horner, dumped overboard by the powerful Kelly-Nash machine of Chicago, waged a successful campaign against the regular Democratic organization.

A total Democratic vote exceeding 1,500,000, the highest ever recorded for the party in an Illinois primary, served to strengthen the hopes of Democracy's leaders concerning the 1936 election. Count Chairman Patrick Nash, generalissimo of the Bundesen campaign, attributed the large vote to a desire of the people "to show their preference for President Roosevelt."

Roosevelt Unopposed

President Roosevelt was unopposed for the Democratic preference, polling a vote of record-breaking proportions.

Gov. Horner will oppose C. Wayland Brooks, Chicago attorney, in the November election. Brooks, the Republican nomination for governor with a smashing plurality, will reach 200,000. Brooks defeated former Gov. Len Small and Oscar E. Carlstrom, former attorney general. Senator James Hamilton Lewis, polling about 90 percent of the entire Democratic party vote, was nominated by the largest plurality ever recorded in an Illinois primary; estimates placed it at one million votes. The Republican nominee for United States senator was Otis Glenn, who rolled up a commanding lead of 100,000 in Cook County over his closest rival, William E. Hull.

The total vote in Illinois was approximately 2,225,000.

Senator Borah's defeat in preferential contest was expected to prove a turning point in his race for the G. O. P. nomination, for the senator considered the Illinois test the crucial one of his candidacy.

Although the preferential vote is not binding on the 50 district delegates elected yesterday, Cook, Knox's victory, it was expected, will mean the endorsement of the state convention which will choose the seven delegates at large.

Returns Continue

Chicago, April 15.—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, was piling up a substantial lead in the Illinois Republican primary's preferential vote for presidential nomination as returns from unreported precincts down-state indicated that he would win by a two-to-one margin over Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho.

In 4201 of the state's 7,426 precincts the vote stood:

Knox 262,463; Borah 193,178.

Meanwhile the victory of Gov. Henry Horner over Dr. Herman N. Bundesen for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination appeared certain. Although trailing Bundesen in Cook county, Horner's downstate vote was gradually placing him out in front. Returns from 4,976 precincts gave Horner 516,637 votes and Bundesen 513,972. Since the precincts that have not reported yet are acknowledged Horner strongholds it was estimated Horner would win by at least 100,000 votes.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW PLAN IS MADE TO PUBLIC

talization is needed for a period of more than thirty five days, the member is given half rates for the further service.

For nine dollars per year the member is guaranteed a private room with all service necessary up to 35 days and half rates thereafter. The service includes everything just as does the 36 membership. The only thing precluded from the services rendered are rest cures, diagnostic studies, pulmonary tuberculosis, neurasthenia, nervous or mental diseases, acute venereal infections, quarantinable contagions, erysipelas, and chronic or acute alcoholism.

Factual Background

The prepaid hospitalization plan as worked out by Dr. Bissell is the result of research and investigation as to the needs in New Castle and Lawrence County, the number of people who take advantage of hospital service and the money involved.

Statistics show that one person in every thirteen is hospitalized annually without regard to income, occupation or location of homes. The service is even higher. One actually one person of every seven needs hospitalization every year but through economic circumstances many do not go to the hospital. This means slower recovery, lack of proper care and possible after-conditions.

Dr. Bissell has in mind to make the Jameson Memorial Hospital available to every man and woman in Lawrence County at a price that they can not afford to forego. His vision is a city properly hospitalized, where people can go into the Jameson Memorial Hospital knowing that their hospital bill is already taken care of through the nominal fees they have contributed in the months preceding.

Baylor Plan

The plan as outlined by Dr. Bissell is really a development of the so-called Baylor plan, which was put into operation by Baylor University in December 1929. That plan has worked successfully and through it people have been saved large hospital bills by preparing for such exigencies.

The plan as outlined by Dr. Bissell does not stop with the individual. It includes the family. For the payment of ten dollars per year under the plan, an entire family no matter the size can be assured of proper hospitalization.

No one can say when disease or accident will strike him down. Appendicitis, pneumonia, stomach disorders, gall bladder trouble, accidents at home, on the street or on the highway, these reach out and strike at the most unexpected times. Under the prepaid plan one need not have any worry about the hospital bill for that will be already taken care of. Hospital bills mount up of themselves when the person involved is least able to pay. As an example, John Doe is stricken with appendicitis. Ten days bed and care in the hospital would cost him $35. The use of the operating room would be $10, the anesthetic would be $10 and the laboratory fees $3, a total of $58. If he were a member of the first group, that paying $6 for prepayment, his contributions would not total the bill for 95 cents.

Perhaps John Doe is stricken with pneumonia. The ordinary charges for 17 days care would be $59.50 for the room and general care, $48 for four days in the oxygen tent and $3 for laboratory fees. This totals $110.50 and would be nearly 19 years of paying at $6 per year.

The fees as outlined by Dr. Bissell are based upon the averages arrived at after careful research. This shows that out of every 1000 persons, 145 will need hospitalization. By this co-operative method of paying hospital bills, John Doe helps to pay for his neighbor's bill one year and the next year Mr. Doe himself is aided by the fees of his fellow members.

Explanatory articles outlining the more minute details of the plan will appear later.

Lindbergh kidnap ladder, and every known purchaser of string of this type for months past would be questioned and investigated.

Should the string clue definitely get the investigation going in the right direction, there are two other clues through which the killer can be identified once he is found.

These are three strands of sandy hair, discovered on the bed where Mrs. Titterton was assaulted, and the other is the fingerprint, found through the new silver nitrate process on the writer's garter belt.

From the first the police have regarded the piece of cord as their most valuable clue and a detective has reputedly been assigned to travel all over the country to trace it, if necessary.

For the present, at any rate, the official police theory is that the crime was committed by a madman in a sudden surge of insane lust.

(International News Service)
SAN JOSE, Cal., April 15.—An ultra-modern peeping Tom who swoops close to house-tops in an airplane and peers at defenseless sun-bathers on the rooftops through a pair of binoculars, was sought today by police here.

Numerous calls by indignant and undressed residents have been received at the police department. Actual pursuit of the aerial offender, which seemed a bit difficult, was not undertaken.

The situation was brought to a head today when an irate householder with a number of girl boarders informed officers that the curious pilot almost fell out of his plane as he maneuvered it over her roof, so occupied was he with peering at her guests through field glasses.

Among the old-country pests imported to make America suffer are sparrows, starlings and people.

WHAT ABOUT EDENBURG COVERED BRIDGE?

CONTRACTS are about to be awarded by the State Highway Department for the construction of the long-talked-of viaduct and elevated roadway across the railroads and the Mahoning river at Edensburg.

The viaduct and highway will traverse a new route, and the town of Edensburg will be reached by a spur.

All of which leads up to the question what will become of the covered bridge that now spans the Mahoning river. It may be that the program does not call for removal of this bridge. It will undoubtedly be closed to traffic however, because there would be no value to the grade crossing removal plan otherwise.

We are informed that the covered bridge at Edensburg, which has stood for 75 years or more, is an unusual specimen of this fast fading type of early bridge architecture. It is not only a long bridge for such a type, but is one constructed with a separate passageway for pedestrians, one of the very few now in existence in the entire country.

Would the idea of preserving this structure for its historic value be worth while? It seems to us that before the span is razed the proposal of preserving it merely as a relic of the past should be given consideration.

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT IT?

OVERCROWDED FRONT SEATS

Testimony at a coroner's hearing in an Eastern Pennsylvania county showing that an automobile which figured in a recent accident in which a man and a woman were killed had four persons riding in the front seat calls attention to a little-heeded cause of many motor crashes—overloaded cars.

A driver is seriously handicapped in operating carefully when he is crowded into a corner and pushed away from the brake pedal by three persons riding next to him. Cars overloaded in this fashion should be halted by the police.

COLLEGE FOR PARENTS

At Harvard recently, fathers and mothers of 60 to 70 students spent four days learning what their son's college life was like.

While the students went on vacation, their parents moved into Lowell house as guests of Prof. Julian Lowell Coolidge. Their program included sleeping in their sons' dormitory, eating in the same dining hall and relaxing in Harvard's new indoor athletic building nearby. Two lectures a day by faculty members, visits to classrooms and museums on the campus, and a general repetition of the daily routine of their boys, filled out the unique excursion.

Here is an idea that could be copied by other colleges. Too often there is a breach between parents and children simply because the elders haven't taken the time to meet their boys and girls on the youngsters' home ground.

FATIGUE

Industrial research has shown that the fatigued worker's output falls off, quality suffers and carelessness develops. Accidents are most numerous shortly before quitting time.

Fatigue is a normal protective mechanism preventing overloading of the human organisms, just as a fuse prevents overloading an electrical circuit. The utterly fatigued person cannot continue and must, therefore, stop in spite of himself.

The point of complete exhaustion is seldom reached. At a certain stage the "second wind" develops, and our minds, shutting out disturbing impressions, continue to function at a high level of efficiency and very economically, so that we can go along more or less automatically, depleting our energy reserves slowly.

When the energy output persistently exceeds recuperative powers a condition of chronic fatigue develops. In this state people are irritable, resentful, melancholy, dissatisfied, discouraged and may rage or weep over trifles. This again is the normal protective mechanism against exhaustion. The chronically tired person is absolutely compelled to rest. If he is wise, he will do so before his efficiency drops and his recuperative powers are lowered.

The way to get the most out of an employee is not by overworking him. The output of an eight-hour working day may be larger and better than that of a twelve-hour day.

AN ANCIENT REFRIGERATOR

The Psalmist tells us that Jehovah "casteth forth His ice like morsels" and then he asks: "Who can withstand His Cold?" Were David alive today he would be astounded at the answer to his query. For word comes from Moscow of minute, shrimp-like creatures, which contain hearts and other complicated apparatus, being hatched from eggs that had been frozen from 1,000 to 3,000 years. The offspring of these long dormant eggs are now going through normal life cycles in the biogeochemical laboratory of the Academy of Sciences in Moscow; they are now in the tenth generation and are said to be swarming in hundreds.

The Ice Age still grips Northern Siberia from which these eggs were retrieved by one Peter Koptereff, a professor, who is now planning a more ambitious expedition farther north in Yakutsk, where the Ice Age is nearing its end. Only a yard below the surface, according to the scientists who compose the Eternal Frost Commission, are thick layers of ice, which have been unchanged for thousands of years. The new expedition will dig through this ice to the frozen soil below in the hopes of finding some animals now extinct that lived in the faraway ages.

While there is little expectation of finding larger animals in a frozen state capable of being revived, yet the success in hatching the long-frozen eggs prompts the scientists to declare that no one can tell.

This awe-inspiring quest stirs the imagination. It conjures up boundless possibilities. Perhaps Nature's ancient refrigerator may reveal nothing more than a Dodo. But as the scientists ask, who can tell?

BISHOP STEWART, Episcopalian, of Chicago, thinks immortality may be limited.

"Only those who have a definite relationship to God through the spiritual life may be eligible for immortality, and other souls cease to exist upon death."

This important suggestion of a celestial "four hundred," will appeal to many that might not care to meet, forehead, protruding jaw, the bushman with a vocabulary of 150 words, or all the repentant thieves, murderers and trust magnates.

It is conceivable that selection of the celestial few might be postponed a few million years, until real civilization shall have begun. This is the poison gas age.

THE PENNSYLVANIA Railroad celebrates its 90th birthday. In February it paid its two hundred and third dividend, completing 89 years of uninterrupted payments to stockholders, amounting to one thousand million dollars.

In wages, taxes and other costs the Pennsylvania Railroad has paid out thirty thousand million dollars.

Railroading is a big business. What will the next ninety years develop in transportation, lighter equipment, higher speed, at least 150 miles an hour, no grade crossings, lower fares, all long journeys by air?

THIS IS news because it never happened before. During Easter services in St. Paul's Cathedral in London, a young woman, 25, a cloak wrapped about her, walked to the altar steps, sank to her knees with arms outstretched, threw aside the cloak and was seen to be entirely naked.

THE UNFORTUNATE creature doubtless insane was covered and removed as soon as spectators, stunned, had recovered their senses.

An earthquake or tornado, reminds you of the safety with which nature manages as a whole and this sad incident reminds you of the general good behavior of human beings in spite of their many worries and emotions.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

ENTHUSIASM ISN'T SHAMEFUL
A few weeks ago I read a book by a young man named William Saroyan, and went a little crazy about it.

I thought it a very fine collection of words and ideas, and I felt behind the book—and all through it—was an exceptional human being. Wise, sensitive, honest-minded, decent, worth-while and going places.

So I praised "Inhale and Exhale" in a column of book comment, praised it several times, tried to let my admiration shine through my written words.

Since then I've read every review of the book that came my way. . . . and I feel sort of unhappy about some of them.

It seems that Mr. Saroyan published another book last year and this second book isn't as good as that. . . . or it is just as good but not better than the first one. . . . or Mr. Saroyan of 1936 hasn't gone far ahead of Mr. Saroyan of 1935 as the critics expected. . . . Of course, many, most of the reviewers praised this new book, as I did, but I notice that those who don't praise it pick on the weaker parts of it and don't say a word about the best stories in the book. They don't judge him by his best, they judge him by his worst. . . . And that sends my blood pressure up!

Because I don't think it's fair. . . . and I do think the only decent thing to do is to judge a man by the greatest height he attains and not by his slips and failures.

One of the sad things about us human beings is the way we lose our enthusiasm or become ashamed of it. Some of us seem to think that the only way for us to show our superiority is to show our power of criticism, not our power of appreciation. We think a sneer is superior to a cheer and hide our enthusiasm as a shameful thing.

Does this mean I feel a little superior to some of those reviewers who criticized a book I happen to like? . . . You guessed it. . . . I do! . . . And I'm not ashamed of that, either.

PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

He was a very serious-minded young freshman at Ohio State university. Long toward the end of his first year he was discussing with a friend the disconcerting condition into which this old world was rapidly sinking.

"What is going to become of our American home life?" he inquired of his friend. "What are we going to do to maintain families? Why, do you realize that most of the girls going to this university don't want to marry?"

"Don't want to marry," exclaimed his friend. "How do you know?" "Know," repeated the serious young freshman. "Know! Why man, I have proposed to nine of them already this year."

"Now, Waldo, could you have a complete sentence with only one word?"

"Yes, my dear," ventured Mr. Smith. "It is quite possible."

Mrs. Smith glared at her life partner.

"A complete sentence with only one word," she inquired rather icily. "And pray tell me what that one word may be?"

"Why, 'Matrimony,' my dear," replied the meek Mr. Smith.

THE CRAFTSMAN

A man with a trade is a man indeed. If the man and the trade are one. And the trade of a man is an honor.

When a full day's work is done. If the trade of man is the printing art. And his standard is high and clear.

A Craftsman he'll be and worthy the part. In the trade he will rank as a peer.

It's the day of the man with art and skill. And a clear-cut planned design; The kind that comes when the night is still.

As he delves into chart and line Of a scheme approved on a printed page. Made plain by some master mind And given the test in the trying age. As applied to the task, refined.

The knowing how brings the man his joy. When the hard, stern job's in hand; And the best that's in him finds employ.

As he meets each strict demand. When he shares his knowledge, his turn and plan. He gives, yet is richer thereby; For he gets from his fellows without stint or ban.

Which all to their tasks do apply. The worth of a trade is the worth of a man.

The trade but reflects what prevails. It is lifted on high if he does all he can. Or is dragged in the mire if he fails. The man at his best is a Craftsman true.

His work is his boast and crown. No tablet of bronze need be cast as his due; What he is and does brings renown.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL: My entrance hall is very dark. Do you think sunlight yellow walls and ivory woodwork would improve it? What about light oak for the floors? My living room furniture is taupe. What color draperies should I use?

Answer—Since the hall is so dark why not paint the walls apple green and the woodwork ivory. This, I think, would be more attractive than yellow walls. There is insufficient contrast between yellow and ivory.

If draperies are necessary, either gold, rust or rose would be harmonious with the green walls and ceiling. The floor may be of oak or mahogany coloring. Either will give the room sufficient stability. Avoid somber pictures—choose those of a colorful nature.

The World At A Glance

Early Campaign Seen To Start Late In June Eastern States Battleground

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

CONGRESS MAY be in session until convention time in June, but the presidential campaign will have an early start this year. Both Democrats and Republicans believe people will make up their minds early.

President Roosevelt probably will make the first speech of his campaign at the close of the Democratic convention in Philadelphia the latter part of June. The convention will be used as a springboard to jump straight into the campaign. It is proposed that a monster pro-Roosevelt demonstration be held in Franklin Field, the University of Pennsylvania stadium, next door to the convention hall.

If Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas wins the Republican nomination, he is likely to drop his "stand aside" attitude and immediately adopt a vigorous campaign. He will have to work on two fronts—the farm country, considered pro-Roosevelt—and in the east (except New England). The Democrats believe they could carry New York and New Jersey as of today, and they refuse to concede Pennsylvania. The Republicans would have to carry all three of those states to win.

LABOR FRONT WORRIES

It is natural to assume that the position of organized labor would worry the Republicans—especially with all the anti-labor efforts of large industrialists being brought out before a senate committee making an investigation of anti-labor activities. But the Roosevelt Democrats also have become somewhat worried.

"Boss" James A. Farley tried to put over Dan Tobin, head of the teamsters' union, as chairman of a labor campaign committee within the national Democratic organization. John L. Lewis, now the dominant figure in American labor, and his increasing number of followers, consider Tobin a reactionary and out of sympathy with many labor movements, such as industrial unionism embracing everybody in each industry.

Now Lewis, of course, is strongly pro-Roosevelt, as are his followers. But they refuse to be dominated. To hold that powerful group, the Democratic organization will have to head it.

Lewis wasted no time, therefore, to make his objection to Tobin known. He did it in a practical manner. He backed the formation of Labor's Non-Partisan league, with George L. Berry at its head. The dominating figures, however, are Lewis and Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, with its membership chiefly in New York, where votes are vital to President Roosevelt.

Berry, truly enough, is President Roosevelt's Co-ordinator for Industrial Co-operation—but he belongs to the Lewis wing of organized labor and owes allegiance there.

Democrats are fearful a real labor party is getting under way in the United States. That may mean trouble in 1940.

DAMAGING
Industrialists in the Pittsburgh region are bitter over the testimony of J. Warren Madden, the Pittsburgher who became chairman of the National Labor Relations board, and Heber Blankenhorn, economist of the board, before the senate subcommittee on labor and education headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Both told of alleged terrorist methods employed in the Pittsburgh district.

Blankenhorn estimated that private detective agencies had supplied 135,000 industrial spies in recent years at a cost of approximately $60,000,000 a year. (The figures seem incomprehensible.)

Chairman Madden was militant in the fire.

Camp Rentz Reservations, Mounting Daily, Point To Biggest Season On Record

There'll be little quiet at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Young Men's Christian Association this summer—that's sure, for space in the cabins at the camp for the first three weeks of the 1936 season opening July 7 already is almost at a premium.

Reservations on Tuesday showed that 21 boys have already signed up for vacations during the first four weeks ranging from two to four weeks—a year ago at this time the "Y" hadn't received one reservation.

Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas, who reported the promising outlook, revealed some of the 1936 season plans.

New Features This Year. Improvements for the summer, he said, will start within the very near future. The entire grounds will be cleaned up, as usual, and new features installed.

Perhaps the most noticeable of innovations the boys will see when they reach camp in July will be the new outdoor basketball court, expertly illuminated for night playing, and the new outdoor chapel.

Counselors for the summer are being contacted early and already Frank Baldwin and William Winters, popular counselors of past seasons, have signed up to return.

Baldwin, now attending a New York seminary, will have full charge of the camp's religious work.

Three types of hobby work, brass tapping, woodcraft and leathercraft, will be offered for the boys this season.

Stressing that "we have from 30 to 50 other inquiries from parents about camp," Mr. MacNicholas urged parents to immediately contact the association if they wish to enroll a boy. He said that space for the summer season may be at a premium by May 1.

The length of the 1936 season, it was announced, will be determined by the response of campers.

Boys Already Signed Up. The physical director, who directs the camp work in the summer, announced that the following boys have reserved cabin places for the number of weeks given with their names:

Ralph Reed, four; Robert George, two; Lin Dilks, two; John Binder, four; Grant Stitzinger, Jr., four; Dick McKee, four; Bobby Payne, two; Jack Elliott, four; Bill Eckles, two; John Gill, two; Wilbert Gill, two; Kenneth Scheppele, two; Jack Winters, two; Dick Butler, four; John Butler, four; Joe Vogan, two; King Bell, two; Henry McGlenahan, two, and Bob Calvin, two.

Has Hero Role In Senior Play On Friday Night

hero role of Roger Winslow in the senior play, "The Closed Door." He is in love with Louise Grey, a blind girl. Quite in contrast to Louise, who is serene and gentle, Roger is happy-go-lucky and dynamic. He realizes how futile the old quarrel between the Greys and Winslows was, and he resents his father's obstinacy.

Stitzinger, Jr., in keeping "the door" closed. His own home is so cheerless and lonely that he seeks refuge at the Grey's home during his father's stay in Europe. His good humor and ready wit are appreciated by the Greys. Ernest is very well-suited to this role of Roger.

Ernest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger of Winter avenue. Besides being in the dramatics class, he has participated in class basketball and in "track." He has been a member of various squads in the student government organization, such as library, monitor, inspection, etc. His classmates call him either "Ernie" or "Stitz."

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 15—The Kappa Delta sorority of Westminster College announced today that they would abandon the traditional "Hell-week" for pledges and substitute in its place, "courtesy week" April 14-20.

Instead of inflicting the regular routine of room-cleaning, humiliating outfits to be worn, and other embarrassing roles, the Kappa Delta will entertain their pledges throughout the week, which will include a sorority sing in the college woods followed by a pajama party, a spaghetti feed, a daily letter to each girl, gifts and a day of cleaning the pledges' room. The week will be climaxed by a Sunday breakfast at the Tavern.

The lucky pledges of Kappa Delta are Belinda Law, Oakmont; Virginia Ekeles, Mt. Lebanon; Ida Varner and Joyce Beatty, Bellevue; Tessa Kugler, Franklin; Ruth Johns, Tessa; Wilmington; Betty Lou Russell, Lima, O.; Marian Lewis, Elizabeth; and Jane Calvert, Alliance, O.

AROUND CITY HALL

Employees of the department of streets have been removing some of the dirt which was washed from hills onto paved thoroughfares recently. As soon as this is removed and providing warm weather continues the streets sweeper will be placed back on a spring and summer schedule.

When North street is widened it is probable that city authorities will enact legislation which will prevent it from becoming a parking section all day for automobiles. North street is a part of the state highway system and no doubt will be used extensively for through traffic.

According to attaches of the company which carries the compensation on city workers, the firm has been hit quite severely during the past several months. Several police suffered fractures and some other employees were injured. Police and firemen now receive their full wage when injured while on duty. They refund the compensation to the city.

BOY SCOUT Activities

CROTON TROOP NO. 6

Croton Troop No. 6 met last evening at the Croton M. E. church. The opening exercises were led by Bob Sizer, after which the patrol was held for their corner for their usual business meeting. The troop contest was discussed. Bob Hartsuff and Bob Campbell won the signaling contest, and rope tying was also practiced. Games were played before the closing, which consisted of the scoutmaster's benediction followed by taps.

The patrol leaders, assistant senior patrol leader and scribe of Troop 6 went on an overnight hike to Camp Phillips, Friday, April 10. The boys walked the entire distance, taking time out at five-mile-hole to eat lunch which had been brought along.

After reaching camp and unpacking, games were played. The return trip was made following lunch the next day, before which, wood was cut for the pile.

Scribe, Nello Rubels.

ITALIAN FORCES OCCUPY DESSYE WITHOUT FIGHT

total conquest of Ethiopia, for which the press had been clamoring and which it has declared at hand.

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff
Copyright, 1936, by International News Service

London, April 15.—The capture of Dessye as reported from Rome today means Premier Mussolini's troops have accomplished a feat of colonial warfare hitherto dismissed as incredible by military experts.

It means the black shirts have done in two months in Ethiopia what it took the French 10 years to do in Morocco.

It marks the end of any serious hopes the Ethiopians would be able to prevent a complete conquest of their country.

Finally, it puts Great Britain in the most embarrassing position she has had to suffer since she undertook to bluff It Duce.

Total Lack of Resistance

The advance of Marshal Badoglio's soldiers since February victories just south of Makale took place with phenomenal speed explicable only by the total lack of resistance by the Ethiopians.

They covered nearly 200 miles of the most difficult terrain conceivable, gashed by canyons as deep as America's Grand Canyon and traversed only in part by a road, which in hundreds of places could be destroyed with a few pounds of dynamite.

Viewed from the air as this correspondent viewed it on a flight over the northern front a few months ago, the route of the Italians' advance seemed to present insurmountable obstacles.

At scores of places a half dozen machine guns could have held up the army. But the emperor evidently lacks even a half dozen machine guns.

Rainy Season Is Near

Capture of this key point is of the greatest significance, but it does not guarantee capture of Addis Ababa before the big rains begin next month.

Between Dessye and Addis Ababa lies a giant escarpment towering 3,000 feet. There, if ever, the Ethiopians may make their stand.

It is about 75 miles from Dessye on a 200-mile road to the capital. Once they have scaled that escarpment, the Italians, however, would have a clear way to Addis Ababa across a vast, high level plateau.

Premier Mussolini in initiating the war foresaw, as his son-in-law, Count Ciano, told me, "two years of sharp fighting and three of mopping up."

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poisoning by paring them. Statistics show that many infections have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get some Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous. The pain promptly disappears and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily—without and without leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint quickly eases such troubles as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably the reason for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.

eight of the churches were open, and these were crowded with worshippers, principally old people.

Russia's experience seems to justify Samuel Johnson's statement that religion would lose its force if not kept alive by regular observance of forms and ceremonies.

BUT THE PRESENT so-called "atheistic" control of Russia will find that men will not live forever content with the teachings of Karl Marx and the memory of Lenin. They will ask, as their cave ancestors did:

"How did I get here, where am I going, what happens when I die?"

Then religion will start again, perhaps not in the Greek church, but religion.

Men want to know and they cannot tell each other.

NOMINATION of Gov. Landon, of Kansas, by the Republicans on the second ballot is predicted, reasonably. The prediction says 318 votes on the first ballot and on the second 546, which would be forty-five more than are needed to nominate. The sooner Republicans agree on their man the better their chance for November.

To let the people know what is to happen is wisdom. Time is short enough from convention to election.

A FRENCHMAN says:

"American digestion would improve if Americans made more and better sauces."

Voltaire, another Frenchman said the same thing of England long ago. He found that England had many religions, and only one sauce where-as France had many sauces and only one religion, and he preferred France.

RUSSIA has a genuine "youth movement" with one-third of all workers under 23 years of age; 43 per cent of them girls. Russia has 173,000,000 population nearly half of it born since the Bolshevik revolution.

Populations and history change rapidly. Extreme youth might control the whole of Russia, but for the fact that it is already controlled by Stalin, of middle age.

MORE WORRY for old England. It was bad enough when Mussolini's troops seized Lake Tana, that send water through the Blue Nile to irrigate the Sudan and Egypt. Now Italian troops establish themselves on the Sudan frontier, seizing control of two important caravan routes connecting England's Egyptian-Sudan territory with Lake Tana.

England would have to say something definite, if Italy should really tamper with those Nile waters.

FRENCH NEWSPAPERS urge their government to leave the League of Nations and let France rely on her own strength and individual alliances.

France has a new treaty-affinity, Stalin, more interesting than the dowdy old League of Nations.

ASIA ALSO sends news. A large section of North China would join Manchukuo under Japanese control, the Japanese army guaranteeing that territory against raids by "reds."

The Chinese are disturbed by Russia's agreement with Outer Mongolia as Germany is disturbed by Russia's treaty with France.

Enemies Aim At Harry L. Hopkins

Hopkins Trade As Professional Welfare Worker
Makes Him Unpopular

UNDER FIRE FROM MANY DIRECTIONS

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 15.—From the nature of his job probably works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins could not have avoided making many enemies.

He has them anyway. No other New Deal official is under such heavy fire from so many different directions. This does not seem to perturb the White House, but to some few among the managers of Democratic re-election campaign policy it is, confidentially, a caused considerable worry.

HOLT'S COMPARISONS

They are worried all the more because, with New Dealers doing the investigating, an inquiry into WPA's activities cannot give a clean slate to Hopkins' organization in very convincing fashion.

Senator Bush Holt of West Virginia expressed himself harshly when he compared a WPA "probe" of WPA-ites with an investigation of Dillinger by Baby Face Nelson. Nevertheless, it is a telling way in which to put his idea across—the kind of comparison that can be used mightily effectively in campaign oratory; anybody can understand it. It's witty, too, and sticks in the memory.

All the worse for Hopkins, Holt is a Democrat and presumably a liberal. By the way, the West Virginian is an extraordinarily bright boy, who has been well advertised as having been elected to the senate even before he was eligible to take the oath of office, compelling him to wait until his 30th birthday to be seated.

MANY ATTACKS

Stephen Raushenbush is another individual that it does not pay Hopkins to be criticized by, on the ground that WPA funds have been used to play politics with in Pennsylvania.

Raushenbush has had plenty of recent publicity as chief investigator for the senate committee which investigated the American munitions business, as a war-propagandizing interest. He stands well in the Keystone state, is a competent inquisitor, a liberal, and his complaints are not to be taken lightly. Hopkins' row with Ohio's Democratic governor, Martin L. Davey, will not be forgotten, either. The merits of it are neither here nor there. It was an ugly dispute, not calculated to keep Buckeye Democracy united.

Republican attacks on the WPA administrator come from every quarter. Doubtless that is to be politically expected. Still, the G. O. P. appears to consider Hopkins particularly vulnerable.

HOPKINS VS. ICKES

Nor has Hopkins been on consistently friendly terms with all of his own New Deal outfit. It is notorious that he and Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes have fought bitterly.

Nobody has accused Ickes' administration of funds use of funds. Ickes has been so careful that it is charged he has not spent money fast enough.

Ickes' idea has been to initiate public works of all-time value. The objection advanced against this program is that a deal of cash goes into raw materials; a comparatively small proportion of it into immediate wages.

Hopkins' idea is immediate wages.

UNPOPULARITY NATURAL

To meet him at first hand, Hopkins' personality is likable. He is a professional welfare worker, however.

The professional welfare worker necessarily is hard boiled—"as cold as charity."

Hopkins' trade makes him unpopular.

And it is multiplied a million-fold by its enormous proportions.

Another thing that keeps poor people from making ends meet is living like rich people.

CASTLE GARAGE

36-40 S. Mercer Street

New Castle, Pa.

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, April 15.—Out of The Mailbag: "Dear Sir: I would not give two cents for the island of Manhattan. I do not see how you stand to stay there just to write it up. It is a town of gyps and thieves."

"I have been in your city twice. One time a man stole my wife's expensive coat when she went away and left it for only about eight minutes across a bench in Grand Central Station. The same trip I was cheated out of $42 by some men running a game of chance in 6th Avenue near Radio City. They were gone when I went back next day. I also got a cinder in my eye and it cost me all my soldier's bonus in hospital bills."

"All so-called night clubs and theatres are hold-up places and ought not to be tolerated in a decent city. What you don't say in your writings is that it costs a man and his friend as much as $15 or $20 to go to these places once. No value rec'd. I am told that you writers get paid by famous people for putting their names in the paper. Is this true? Of course, you won't answer yes or no as you have not the nerve to print this letter."

"New York makes me sick, so stuck on itself and not worth two cents. Sincerely, (please do not use name. I am ashamed I was in New York)."

And from Piedmont, California, comes the following contrastingly acute letter:

"Was glad for the few words of commendation you gave the production, 'Ethan Frome.' I've not seen the play, but have always considered the book The Great American Tragedy. It made a profound impression upon me. As you say, it should be refreshing to one and all to witness a play (read a book) which was written for the worth of its human emotions rather than to disseminate propaganda of one sort or another."

"But what have you to say about that extraordinary super-mid Victorian offering called, 'The Old Maid?' A writing friend and myself saw it a month or so ago in San Francisco, and were hard put to it to decide if it were intended to be burlesque."

"Oh, well, we knew, of course, that it was intended to be taken seriously, but really ..."

"Of course, you saw it. Maybe you commented on it at the time; I don't recall. But to get it off my chest I want to say that of all the insane purposes, monotonous, unreal, ridiculous plays I've ever seen, it takes the Grand Prix. How could it possibly have been a success on Broadway? (if it was). I kept thinking how perfect it would be if offered in the mood of The Drunkard and that type of play which was in the mode recently."

REPORT QUINTUPLETS BORN IN RUMANIA

Believe Babies Will Not Survive

Born To Gypsy Mother Who Had Been At Work In Field

FIRST QUINTUPLETS SINCE DIONNE BIRTHS

(BULLETIN) RUMANIA, April 5.—Quintuplets—three boys and two girls—were born to a gypsy mother in a roadside ditch today, but all are dying, victims of primitive provincial conditions. A few minutes before the five arrived, 25 year old Maria Linguraru had been plowing a field near Hodos in the province of Bihar. In her bare feet she trudged to the roadside and gave the world, without benefit of any Rumanian Dr. Daeve, perhaps the first officially authenticated quintuplets since the Dionne.

"Seven Months" Babies The quintuplets are "seven-month" babies. Although born two months prematurely, physicians who examined them later said, they were healthy babies, due to the excellent condition of their hard-working mother, but exposure in the ditch is expected to prove fatal. Their mother will probably recover.

The peasant woman who owns the field in which Maria Linguraru was plowing probably saved the mother's life when she accidentally passed by and saw her and the wailing babies in the ditch.

Medical aid was summoned from nearby Hodos, and the Rumanian government immediately ordered no expense be spared in securing the best infant specialists to strive for the babies' lives.

All criticism of Major Bowes can be boiled down to five words: "Damn anybody who makes money."

Local Merchants Attend Dinner Meeting Of Association In Meadville

President DeLace Cole, of the Retail Merchants Division of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, together with Earl Ramsey, J. W. Staudinger and Alfred W. Chilton, were in Meadville Monday evening, where they attended a dinner meeting of the Meadville Merchants Association.

The event took place in the Hotel Kepler and the local men report they found a splendid spirit of cooperation existing among the Meadville merchants.

They saw a demonstration of the Park-O-Meter system there, where motorists parking along the main street put a nickel in the slot to park a certain length of time. If they exceed the period allotted, they receive a parking ticket. The system is in use in many cities in the country, it is stated.

Programs Planned At First Baptist

Special programs have been prepared for the mid-week and Sunday services at the First Baptist church for the benefit of the new friends and members who have come in during the recent evangelistic campaign. Tonight from 7:30 to 8 there will be a devotional period in which the pastor will present an exposition of the Eighth Psalm. At 8 o'clock will occur the monthly business meeting of the church. Next Sunday night the service will partake of the spirit of the revival. The young people will have a reserved section of seats and there will be a period of free discussion.

Program Presented At Lions Luncheon

Comic Stunt Is Enjoyed At Tuesday's Meeting; Solo Features

An "Amelia Earhart program," staged to promote the ticket-selling efforts of the members in connection with the famed aviatrix's visit here on April 23, featured Tuesday's weekly meeting of the Lions Club.

Impersonating Miss Earhart was one of the Lions, Clarence E. Hough. He was dressed in flying togs, and answered questions of Lion Numa P. Vidal, Jr. during the program.

The stunt was a comic one. Flight Commander D. E. Mathe-son's teams on Tuesday led Flight Commander Thomas I. Elliott's teams in the ticket selling by a margin of 10 tickets.

A vocal solo by Lion I. J. Miller, was enjoyed during the program. Daniel Heitger accompanied him on the piano.

It was announced that the Lions' bowling team conquered Beaver Falls' team of Lions in a match last week. On the speaker's table rested the loving cup which the club recently presented to Lion Jack Waddington, 1935 golf champ of the club.

Guests of the day were Carbis A. Walker, a Lion of Winston-Salem, N. C., and George Beal, Hadley, Pa.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FAILURES AT TALKING

YOUTH WHO worry so much because they don't know what to say when in a group, including the scores who have written me about such suffering, might be consoled to learn that Oliver Goldsmith, author of "Traveler," Vicar of Wakefield, "Deserted Village," endured all his life, such troubles, too.

McCauley wrote of him: "He was powerfully sensible of his inferiority in conversation; he felt every failure keenly." What McCauley next said, carefully: "Yet he had not sufficient judgment and self command to hold his tongue. His animal spirits and vanity (aren't some timid persons very vain?) were always impelling him to try to do the one thing which he could not do... but when he talked he talked nonsense, and made himself the laughing stock of his hearers." It should be noted that Goldsmith always was trying to talk and shine in conversation, even when he had nothing worth saying.

Goldsmith hobnobbed frequently with the great Samuel Johnson, Joshua Reynolds and David Garrick, all of whom conversed fluently, particularly Johnson. What inferiority feelings poor Goldsmith must have felt! And his desperate efforts to vie with Johnson in speech, and to appear to be comfortable, when he was most ill at ease were, no doubt, the chief source of his discomfort.

What Johnson said of Goldsmith: "Sir, he is so much afraid of being unnoticed that he often talks lest you should forget that he is in the company... Goldsmith should not be forever attempting to shine in conversation; he has not temper for it, he is so much mortified when he fails... What Goldsmith comically says of himself is very true—he always gets the better when he argues alone; meaning that he is master of a subject in his study, and can write well upon it; but when he comes into company, grows confused and unable to talk."

And of Goldsmith, Boswell said, "During this argument Goldsmith sat in restless agitation, from a wish to get in and shine. Finding himself excluded, he had taken his hat to go away, but remained some time with it in his hand... Once when he was beginning to speak, he found himself overpowered by the loud voice of Johnson, who was at the opposite end of the table, and did not perceive Goldsmith's attempt. Thus disappointed of his wish to obtain the attention of the company, Goldsmith in a passion, threw down his hat, looking angrily at Johnson, and exclaiming in a bitter tone, 'Take it.'"

In every informal gathering will be Johnsons and Goldsmiths. The Goldsmiths could be a great deal happier and more lovable if they were content to rest upon their laurels gained in some other field, and not to try to shine in conversation, but to listen comfortably.

Fire Threatens Old Gymnasium At Slippery Rock

Believe Origin Of Slight Blaze In Building Was Incendiary

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, April 15.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, was discovered in one of the second floor rooms on the east side of the "old" gymnasium at Slippery Rock State Teachers college about two hours after midnight Monday morning. The blaze had gained little headway when discovered by Night Watchman Carl Ross and was put out with a hand extinguisher.

President C. S. Miller of the college and state police, who are investigating, are at a loss to explain the blaze from natural causes. There is no wiring in that section of the room and all students and most of the faculty were away for the Easter recess. The room is used by Slippery Rock Boy Scouts, who had not been in it since the Monday night before at the regular meeting.

The door to the room was locked when Ross investigated after smelling smoke. Entrance by a "firebug" could have been gained only through a window which is located above a porch roof at one of the side entrances.

The fire, which burned through the flooring and also the baseboard and adjoining wall, had begun in a pile of Boy Scout first aid splints wrapped with sheeting. Partially burned pages from a torn hymn book were found on top of the splints. No inflammable fluid is used in the splints, nor had there been any recent painting in the room.

The only window faces a quadrangle formed by the new gym, and the blaze could not be seen from the other buildings nor from the highway until it had gained much headway.

This is the second fire which had occurred in this building, the other happening several years ago when turpentine-soaked cloths in the manual training room and paint shop caused a blaze from spontaneous combustion.

The custom of wearing a black band on the coat sleeve in token of mourning came from England.

GRAND PRIZE WON BY A DRY CITY

Editor News:

Dear Sir:

The grand prize in the 1935 National Traffic Safety Contest, conducted by the National Safety Council, with 800 cities participating, was on March 13, 1936, awarded to Evanston, Illinois.

Three times out of four successive years since the contest was inaugurated Evanston has won the coveted honors as the safest city in the United States for motorists and pedestrians, regardless of population.

Perhaps of most significance in this regard is the fact that Evanston's fine record was made in the face of a nationwide increase in motor traffic deaths, exceeding any year in automobile history.

Salient facts in this regard are:

Prize-winning Evanston is a bone dry city of 65,000 population permitting no alcoholic beverages to be sold within its limits.

"Undoubtedly from 75 to 100 Evanston citizens, a substantial portion of them children," said Lieutenant Arthur O. Wharton, "are walking our streets alive and well who would have been victims of motor accidents during the past few years if the fatalities in Evanston had approximated the average of other cities of its class."

With only two auto deaths during 1935 Evanston had a death rate of 2.9 per 100,000 population last year, as compared with an average death rate of 15.9 per 100,000 population for all reporting cities throughout the United States.

No one who has had even one drink has any business driving a car. Tests have shown that even a small amount of alcohol renders a person's mind ineffective for the operation of a motor vehicle.

Tests performed last autumn in Louisville, Kentucky, before the American Safety Congress. Scientific tests made on volunteer subjects, before and after taking a cocktail, by Dr. H. A. Heise of Milwaukee were significant. The volunteers were given a single drink and asked to:

- (1) Sort a deck of cards.
- (2) Thread a needle.
- (3) Use a typewriter, and
- (4) Push in a brake pedal when a red light showed.

The result clearly showed that the single drink slowed down the reactions of the subject to a point where a serious accident might be brought about.

"The driver who has had one or two drinks only, who still thinks he is in possession of his faculties," says Robbins B. Stoekel, Research Associate Professor of Highway Transportation at Yale, "is the really dangerous driver."

Bullish Weekly Reports
On Steel And PowerBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 15.—The stock market staged a moderate recovery today, buoyed by bullish weekly reports on the steel and power industries. Trading was comparatively dull. Rubbers, utilities and rails were leaders on the upside.

The 36th consecutive weekly increase over a year ago in electric output was greeted by a general advance in utility stocks. Electric Power & Light was in the van with a fractional run up to 15% on an active turnover. American Water Works and Columbia Gas also were in demand.

Rubbers were aided by the setting of another new peak for Goodrich, which duplicated yesterday's advance of a point. Reports persist that plans for paying off preferred accumulations of the company are nearing a definite stage. Goodyear also moved into new high ground on a jump of more than a point.

Steel shares failed to make much headway on the upside, despite an optimistic Iron Age report placing operations at 68 per cent of capacity and indicating no immediate let-down was in sight. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem held slightly above their previous closings in quiet dealings.

Rails rebounded in the wake of Tuesday's let-down. N. Y. Central, Atchafon and Northern Pacific setting the pace. Car loadings to be reported Friday will show a marked seasonal improvement.

Industrial rayon snapped back two points, while Douglas, Case and Western Union did nearly as well. Bonds were irregular, grains and cotton were steady.

Flood Control Cost Enormous

Latest Recommendation For Control Would Set Cost
At $500,000,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 15.—Recommendations of army engineers for inclusion of 200 more flood control projects in the revised Wilson-Cope-land bill were considered today by the senate commerce committee in executive session.

The new projects would cost about $500,000,000, on top of the $308,000,000 already included in the bill. The largest of the new projects would build a score of levees along the White river in Arkansas, at a cost of $9,142,000. The next largest would devote $3,000,000 to flood control of the Columbia river in Washington.

The army engineers rejected approximately 50 water-power projects which would cost $410,000,000. The engineers held they were economically unsound, except for five small ones which might be built at low cost if proper markets could be found for the power.

Opinion Divided
There was a sharp division in the committee over inclusion of the new projects on the ground it would turn the bill into "pork-barrel" legislation and place a terrific burden on Uncle Sam that properly should be borne by local communities. Another controversy involved the question whether the federal government should pay the total cost of the proposed projects or compel benefitting communities to pay all damage costs, such as relocation of highways and railroads and purchase of flooded lands.

Due to these controversies, an immediate report of the bill to the senate was considered unlikely.

Schwab Sails For Europe Today On Big German Liner

Tells Youth Of America Not To Strive For Riches, But Just Work Hard

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 15.—Young men, strive for something else in life than riches.

Charles W. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel company, left this advice with youth early today as he sailed on the North German Lloyd liner Europa. He is going to Bad Nauheim in Germany on the advice of his physician.

"Let me tell you something," the 74-year-old steel magnate said. "Don't strive for riches. That's my advice to young men. I've worked hard all my life and have accomplished much, but it means nothing. Work honestly and you'll find peace and contentment. That's all any one can ask."
